

Fennebresque & Co. Advises Whole Harvest Foods, LLC on its Sale to Bunge North America, Inc.

Charlotte, NC (October 6, 2015) - Fennebresque & Co. has announced that Bunge North America, the North American operating arm of Bunge Limited (NYSE: BG), has purchased Whole Harvest Foods, LLC, a leading refiner and packager of expeller pressed commercial cooking oils. Whole Harvest Foods products, which include frying oils, pan strays and liquid butter alternatives are manufactured at its vegetable oil refinery and packaging facility in Warsaw, NC and its packaging plant in Las Vegas, NV. Whole Harvest Foods' products are made from expeller pressed canola, cottonseed and soy oils and will provide solutions to both Bunge's consumer food manufacturer and foodservice customers.

"Whole Harvest Foods' patented refining process creates a host of minimally processed products that have excellent taste and texture, a long fry life and require no artificial preservatives," said Tim Gallagher, executive vice president, Oilseed Value Chain, Bunge North America. "As 'The Oil Experts,' the Whole Harvest Foods products are a great addition to our product portfolio delivering the simple label features that our customers want."

Earl Ellis, CEO of Whole Harvest Foods stated, "With a solid understanding of food and agriculture, Fennebresque & Co. was an ideal partner to advise Whole Harvest in its sale to the buyer best suited to advance our company's long term vision. Fennebresque worked tirelessly to communicate Whole Harvest's unique positioning as a strategically important platform at the nexus of agriculture, food and nutrition. The Fennebresque team provided sound advice throughout the process."

Fennebresque & Co. was retained by Whole Harvest Foods, LLC as its exclusive financial advisor. Terms of the transaction were not disclosed.
